

Customer Bulletin: Vancouver terminal resumes regular operating schedules.

Friday January 28, 2022

The backlog created by the floods caused supply chain logistical issues for all carriers, for all receivers, for all shippers and for the consumers. The backlog created capacity issues and stretched throughout the entire supply chain process. But our teams worked hard around the clock to finish and get caught up.

We are very happy to announce that we are now operating according to our regular schedules. Our team in Vancouver along with many other team members from across the country have now completed the backlog of containers at the Vancouver terminal. We have recovered from the delays and continues regular operations in and out of Vancouver.

We want to thank our customers for placing your trust in us during this time. Thank you again for your tremendous patience and understanding as we worked through all the uncontrolled delays and challenges.

Our Vancouver team has continuously worked these past couple months ensuring containers were received and processed. We increased our work capacity and worked around the clock to get it completed as fast as we possibly can. We are very proud of this team's hard work and dedication.

We look forward to serving you once again on our regular schedules.
